SCC Offers More Classes in the Fall 2012 Schedule at the Centers

FAIRFIELD, CA, JULY 24, 2012: The cancellation of the summer session has afforded Solano Community College (SCC) an opportunity to provide a more robust Fall 2012 schedule. Fall schedule additions include classes in Anthropology, Art, Astronomy, Biology, Chemistry, Cinematography, Counseling, English, Geology, History, Math, Political Science, Psychology, Social Sciences, Sociology, and Theatre Arts. The additional course offerings are available primarily at SCC's Vacaville and Vallejo centers, providing students with more choice to attend College in their communities. Fall 2012 registration is now open and classes are filling quickly!

“The college is making concerted efforts to continue its longstanding tradition of being available to the community. It is important to continue, even in these challenging times, to maximize and adapt our course offerings to respond to the needs of our students,” shares Dr. Jerry Kea, Vallejo Center Dean. “In order to position the centers to provide what our community needs, it is imperative for Solano to make student services and class offerings more dynamic at the centers; and we are taking strides to do so!”
